The GAP Certification Process

Farmers, please join us for an expert farmer panel discussion about the Good Agricultural Practices (GAP) certification process. Two farmers will share their experiences with the GAP certification process and will conduct a Q&A session. Staff from University of Missouri extension, Lincoln University, and Missouri Department of Agriculture will also provide an overview on the differences between the Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) and GAP, what the requirements and exemptions are for each, and how and when to become certified.

Wednesday, December 19th | 6:00-9:00pm
