

Position Announcement

Rawlins County is a two-agent county nestled in the northwest corner of Kansas. Three incorporated towns are home to over 2,500 residents, with Atwood being the county seat. Agriculture and family farms play a significant role in the economy. Rawlins County has approximately 1,460 households and 307 farms. Those farms make up approximately 355,165 acres of cropland and 243,072 acres in pastureland. Beef cattle is the main livestock operation totaling approximately 30,406 head primarily in cow herds.

Rawlins County has great participation in the 4-H Youth Development Program. There are approximately 100 members in three 4-H community clubs.

TITLE: Extension Agent

PRIMARY AREA OF RESPONSIBILITY: Agriculture and Natural Resources

LOCATION: Atwood, Kansas.

APPLICATION DATE: Applications will be accepted through November 16, 2018. Interviews will be conducted December 11, 2018. In case of inclement weather, the alternate interview date is December 20, 2018.

Responsibilities:

Extension agents are professional educators who serve as a link between Kansas State University and communities across Kansas. Agents are administratively responsible to the Director of K-State Research and Extension (represented by a designated administrator) and the local extension board.

1. Develop and implement comprehensive, pro-active educational programming related to agriculture and natural resources. Programming will include but is not limited to: agronomic and livestock production, agriculture economics, management and public policy, horticultural production and management, natural resources conservation and environmental leadership.
2. Share leadership for the development, implementation, and evaluation of the 4-H Youth Development program for school-aged youth in cooperation with local residents and extension colleagues. The focus is youth development, adult volunteer development, youth education program development, expanding partnerships, and participation and membership growth. Programming will include but is not limited to: supporting community clubs, out-of-school programs, school enrichment, volunteer management, and outreach to create new program opportunities with existing and new community partners.
3. Share responsibility for community vitality educational programming that addresses community functions of leadership, government, health, economy, ecosystems and social well-being.
4. Programming will include these steps:
 - a) Identify local needs and emerging issues related to K-State Research and Extension's five Grand Challenges (water, community vitality, health, developing tomorrow's leaders and global food systems) by engaging with program development committees and other community organizations and professionals.
 - b) Design appropriate educational strategies to engage clientele. These strategies might include delivering educational programming in a community-based setting, coordinating events and activities that provide experiential learning opportunities, using innovative technologies, providing individual educational consultations and facilitating groups seeking similar educational outcomes. Some overnight travel and evening and weekend work will be required.
 - c) Develop and implement strategies to expand the reach of educational programming to under-served audiences and to make certain K-State Research and Extension is an equal opportunity provider of educational programming.
 - d) Collect and communicate evidence of educational program impact.
 - e) Develop specialized knowledge and skills by engaging as a member of a Program Focus Team.
5. Secure external funding such as grants, gifts and cost recovery to supplement local tax revenue to support and expand educational programming.
6. May periodically be assigned to serve as the local unit director providing administrative oversight for the fiscal operations, coordination of personnel, development, delivery and reporting of program impact and other administrative functions assigned by the director's representative and the extension board.
7. Serve as a member of the Rawlins County team cooperating in the planning and delivery of county-wide programming and related events.
