

Amy Miller, Shawnee County, SEAC Nominee

Amy Miller is a Realtor with Coldwell Banker American Home. She is completing a year as Chair for the Shawnee County Extension Executive Board. She has served on the Shawnee County Extension Council since 2017 and served as Secretary in 2018 & 2019.

On the community development program development committee, Amy brought ideas for new programs and actions that could support entrepreneurs and volunteers active in our community PRIDE programs.

Amy has been an advocate for Extension programming for many years. She has been a Master Gardener volunteer since 2016 and currently serves on the Shawnee County Master Gardener board. She also has taught after-school Extension programming. During her tenure on the board, Amy has made a point of attending Extension-sponsored programs by all agents to get a broader understanding of all program areas. From these programs, Amy feels Extension has made her a better Realtor being educated on community health, food security, issues facing crop and ranch land, increasing the value of real estate through landscaping, importance of radon testing, and opportunities of agritourism. She works closely with the Health Department for septic & well water testing.

Amy enjoys educating both buyers & sellers of real estate about resources at the Extension Office as well as fellow Realtors. As a board member she spoke to county commissioners, as well as community members, to share our program impact. Amy is well versed in the variety of program efforts conducted by Extension and would be a strong advocate on the State Extension Advisory Council.
