

About This Role:

The Extension Nutrition Program, within K-State Research and Extension, is currently seeking two full-time Nutrition Educators. Nutrition Educators serve to meet the Kansas Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed) mission of empowering low-income Kansans using evidence-based strategies to achieve healthy lives and reduce health disparities. Specific strategies include direct education in various settings, community based projects to address Policy, System or Environmental changes and public health approaches to help children, families and adults improve dietary quality and food resource management skills and increase physical activity. These educators report to the K-State Research and Extension - Douglas County Family and Consumer Sciences Agent.

Duties include, but are not limited to:

- Collaborating with County Extension Agent(s) to assess the nutrition and health needs of low-income residents.
- Coordinating, preparing and delivering curriculum-based nutrition education programming to limited resource groups and individuals of various ages in settings such as: Housing Authorities, Food Banks, Schools, etc.
- Developing partnerships and contacts with local service agencies, school districts and other community organizations.
- Serving as one a two local SNAP-Ed program and K-State Research & Extension representatives for Douglas County.
- Participating in local community coalitions to promote, implement and support initiatives for Policy, System and Environmental changes related to SNAP-Ed goals and objectives.
- Gathering data and compiling county SNAP-Ed reports and records for submission to the state SNAP-Ed office on a monthly, quarterly and annual basis.

This position will serve Douglas County. The primary office location will be in Lawrence, KS. Regular travel to various sites within Douglas County is required, along with occasional overnight travel for trainings (approximately 3-4 times per year).

Why Join Us:

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed) is a nutrition education program provided at no cost to Kansas families with limited resources. Our goal is to provide nutrition education to individuals and families who receive food assistance or who are eligible to receive food assistance. In addition, we promote, implement and support initiatives for Policy, System and Environmental changes to improve dietary quality, prevent obesity and increase physical activity.

SNAP-Ed is sponsored by the USDA through a contract with the Kansas Department for Children and Families (DCF) and implemented by Kansas State Research and Extension (KSRE). Programming takes place in 75+ counties through the efforts of County Extension Agents, Nutrition Educators and Nutrition Assistants.
