

Northeast Area SNAP-Ed Nutrition Educator, based in Salina, KS.

Job No: 513961

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

About This Role: The Extension Nutrition Program, within K-State Research and Extension, is currently seeking a full-time Nutrition Educator. The Nutrition Educator serves to meet the Kansas Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed) mission of empowering low-income Kansans using evidence-based strategies to achieve healthy lives and reduce health disparities. Specific strategies include direct education in various settings; community-based projects to address policy, system, or environmental changes; and public health approaches to help children, families and adults improve dietary quality and food resource management skills and increase physical activity. This position reports to the Northeast Area SNAP-Ed Nutrition Extension Specialist.

Duties include, but are not limited to:

- Collaborating with extension professionals(s) to assess the nutrition and health needs of low-income residents.
- Coordinate, prepare and deliver curriculum-based nutrition education programming to limited resource groups and individuals of various ages in settings such as housing authorities, food banks, schools, etc.
- Provide in-person, virtual, and hybrid education options for the service area, as well as virtual and hybrid programs for statewide audiences.
- Develop partnerships and contacts with local service agencies, school districts and other community organizations.
- Serve as a local SNAP-Ed program and K-State Research & Extension representative for Northeast Kansas.
- Participate in local community coalitions to promote, implement, and support initiatives for Policy, System and Environmental (PSE) changes related to SNAP-Ed goals and objectives.
- Gather data and compile SNAP-Ed reports and records for submission to the state SNAP-Ed office on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis.

Location:

This position will serve communities in Northeast Kansas. Primary office location will be in Salina, KS. Regular travel to various sites within the Northeast Area is required, along with occasional overnight travel for trainings (approximately 3-4 times per year).

Why Join Us:

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed) is a nutrition education program provided at no cost to Kansas families with limited resources. Our goal is to provide nutrition education to individuals and families who receive food assistance or who are eligible to receive food assistance. In addition, we promote, implement and support initiatives for Policy, System and Environmental changes to improve dietary quality, prevent obesity and increase physical activity. SNAP-Ed is sponsored by the USDA through a contract with the Kansas Department for Children and Families (DCF) and implemented by K-State Research and Extension (KSRE).
