

Position Announcement

Douglas County is located along Interstate 70, between Topeka and Kansas City. The diversified urban, suburban, and rural population is over 120,000. There are three universities in the county: University of Kansas, Baker University and Haskell Indian Nations University. There are four incorporated cities in Douglas County, with Lawrence, the largest, having a population of 96,800. Other cities include Baldwin City, Eudora, and Lecompton. Douglas County is a multi-agent county with five agents and nine support staff. There are 945 farms in Douglas County. There are typically over 115,000 harvested acres. Many of the farms in Douglas County are smaller farms and there is a growing interest in the local foods movement as a way to maximize farm income.

TITLE: Extension Agent

PRIMARY AREA OF RESPONSIBILITY: Agriculture and Natural Resources

LOCATION: Lawrence, Kansas.

APPLICATION DATE: Applications will be accepted through November 16, 2018. Interviews will be conducted December 10, 2018. Position is available on or after January 13, 2018.

Responsibilities:

Extension agents are professional educators who serve as a link between Kansas State University and communities across Kansas. Agents are administratively responsible to the Director of K-State Research and Extension (represented by a designated administrator) and the local extension board.

1. Develop and implement comprehensive, pro-active educational programming related to agriculture and natural resources. Primary programming responsibilities will include agricultural management and livestock production. Other programming may include crop production, agricultural economics, natural resources conservation and environmental stewardship.
2. Share responsibility for the 4-H youth development programming related to agriculture and natural resources.
3. Programming will include these steps:
 - a) Identify local needs and emerging issues related to K-State Research and Extension's five Grand Challenges (water, community vitality, health, developing tomorrow's leaders and global food systems) by engaging with program development committees and other community organizations and professionals.
 - b) Design appropriate educational strategies to engage clientele. These strategies might include delivering educational programming in a community-based setting, coordinating events and activities that provide experiential learning opportunities, using innovative technologies, providing individual educational consultations and facilitating groups seeking similar educational outcomes. Some overnight travel and evening and weekend work will be required.
 - c) Develop and implement strategies to expand the reach of educational programming to under-served audiences and to make certain K-State Research and Extension is an equal opportunity provider of educational programming.
 - d) Collect and communicate evidence of educational program impact.
 - e) Develop specialized knowledge and skills by engaging as a member of a Program Focus Team.
4. Secure external funding such as grants, gifts and cost recovery to supplement local tax revenue to support and expand educational programming.
5. Serve as a member of the Douglas County team cooperating in the planning and delivery of county-wide programming and related events.
