What is the long-term plan for your farm or ranch?

The succession planning workshop series is designed to empower families with the knowledge, skills and resources they need to develop and navigate a succession plan.

The first session is an open option to provide families a general overview of the succession planning process as well as important considerations for a smooth transition.

The following four workshops will be limited to 10 family teams in order to offer personalized information and interactive activities for each family. Families must enroll as a team of at least two or more with the current and future owner(s) participating.

Registration fees include materials and evening meals. Each workshop session begins with a meal at 6 pm followed by presentations and activities. Sessions will end at 9 pm.

Many organizations support the successful transition of our nation’s farms and ranches. We would like to thank those that partnered with Kansas Agricultural Mediation Services and K-State Research & Extension to obtain a grant from the North Central Extension Risk Management Education Center and promote awareness for an important agricultural issue.

These workshops are made possible by a grant from the North Central Extension Risk Management Education Center and the USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture Award Number 2015-49200-24226.
